

Minutes of Stiffkey Parish Council Meeting held on Monday 6th January 2003 at 7.00pm.

Present: Lawrence Jordan (Chairman), Mary Gerrard, John Pearson, Roy Rogers, Stanley Sutton, and Michael Jordan

In attendance: Councillor Bernard Crowe. Councillor Derek Baxter and the Clerk.

Apologies: Mark Harrison

1 Minutes

The Minutes of the last meeting held on Monday 2nd December 2002 were read approved and signed as a true record by the Chairman after clarification of the following issue:

Bangay Lane The verge clearance would not be added to the annual maintenance contract. Mark Harrison had generously offered to cut the verge once a year, which would hopefully ensure this problem, did not reoccur.*

2 Matters Arising

Land at Camping Hill Councillor Crowe informed the Councillors that the N N D C was required to look for the 'Best Value' for this piece of land which could include outline planning permission for a house to be built on the land or to be sold to an adjacent property owner (s) to extend their garden. It now look very unlikely that the Parish Council would be able to purchase the land for a 'pepper corn' rent as had been originally hoped.

Security for the Village Hall The Clerk reminded the Councillors that discussions needed to take place at the next Village Hall Committee Meeting to review the security system in present use for the hall. This was in preparation for the Public Inquiry due to be held at the village hall in the Spring. It was anticipated that the next Village Hall Committee Meeting would be held in January.

Wells Cottage Hospital The Parish Council unanimously agreed that the Clerk should send a letter of objection to the recent temporary closure of Wells Cottage Hospital.

The Chairman closed the Parish Council Meeting to enable the following report to be presented from Councillor Bernard Crowe (attached).

Councillor Derek Baxter informed the Council that he would provide a detailed report for the next meeting. But would investigate why the warning hazard signs for Warborough Hill had not been put back as had been agreed at the site meeting earlier in the year.

Flashing Speed Signs

The cost of the provision of flashing speed sign was discussed. Councillor Baxter explained that on an 'A' road the purchase cost (approximately £5,000) for the flashing sign could be met by the Norfolk County Council if sufficient funds were available.

However the cost of the electricity supply for the installation would have to be met by the Parish Council which could be a considerable sum of money.

Street Lights

The Clerk would report that the following lights were not working:

Street light number 1 near the Red Lion PH

Street light number 3 at the Greenway

Reports

Councillor Bernard Crowe

Council Tax

Electors will be concerned regarding the increase in Council tax over and above inflation for the financial year 2003-04. Last year, using Blakeney as my example, the Band D rates were:

Parish Precept	£36-45
District Council	£99-99
County Council	£758-52
Police Authority	£100-35
Total	£995-51

Band D is used, as it is the comparator nationwide.

In 1999, when I became a District Councillor, we were able to deliver a balanced budget and cater for growth items. Since then, the pressures on local government from central government initiatives have steadily increased to the extent that we were facing a budget gap of £485,000 next year. Year on year we have had budget problems that have been solved by taking small cuts across all services. This was not a sustainable way of dealing with the problem. Within North Norfolk District Council, we have undertaken a

Corporate Review and an options appraisal. The short-term problem has been addressed and we have been able to produce a balanced budget whilst limiting the increase in council tax to 6.5%. So the Band D rate set by NNDC will be rise to £106.50. This will be put to the Full Council on 26 February 2003 for their agreement. The incoming council will address the longer-term options after the elections on 1 May 2003. This will include the requirement to adopt the Euro requirement for waste reduction, which will add another £927,000 to our bill.

You will have read that the Norfolk County Council is facing a similar but larger problem. The total rise could amount to a 12% increase, which is a £91 rise in Band D. I do not have the Police Authority figures but we should expect an increase there also.

All councils are facing what is, in effect, a stealth tax. We are required to manage extra costs that are almost entirely outside our control.

Many come from national agreements and government decisions or policies that councils must comply with, but which will not bring with them the funds needed to put them in place. NCC has stated that of the £50 million extra costs £48 million are almost entirely outside their control. The special edition of 'Norfolk Matters' explains why people are likely to face increases in council tax and seeks the views of residents on budget options.

Another area which local government is taking up with central government, is the timing of the announcements of level of the revenue support grant. I believe that announcements should be made much earlier in the year, leaving only small changes to be left to the autumn and winter. Three months ago, I suggested in the Glaven Newsletter, that we should involve the public on a more regular basis. I wrote: '...the public should not be required to become experts on local finance, but instead be given the opportunity of making choices within a framework informed by the political and technical judgment of your local authority'.

Based on the experience gained this year, it would need a two-stage approach. The first stage would begin early in the budget cycle (May-June) in which the broad priorities and possible directions are discussed. The second stage would take place in November-December when we can determine the overall size of the spending cake. Making the

Comprehensive Performance Assessment (CPA)

The CPA for North Norfolk District Council has commenced and is to be completed before the May elections. Councils are graded Excellent, Good, Fair, Weak or Poor.

The CPA has been completed for County Councils. Some of the results are given below for the East Anglia region. Cambridgeshire, Essex, Norfolk and Suffolk were graded GOOD. Lincolnshire was graded FAIR. Bedfordshire was graded POOR.

The principles of the CPA are that councils and their partners should be assessed not on the circumstances that they find themselves in, for example, rural areas with high deprivation, but on the way they respond to those circumstances.

E-Government

Project Reach Out is now in service. I am pleased to say, in my capacity as chairman of the project management board, that it was delivered on time and within the £450,000 awarded by government and the East of England Development Authority for this innovative project. NNDC provided £50,000 in match funding and NCC contributed £20,000. We have been informed that our proposals for a further major project have also been approved. This is the Front Office/Back Office integration project for which we have been awarded another £200,000. In addition, we have been awarded a further £154,000 to improve our Benefits system. The officers and members who put together these award-winning proposals are to be congratulated; among other benefits they take some of the strain off council taxpayers.

The Minutes of the last meeting held on Monday 6th January 2003 were read approved and signed as a true record by the Chairman.

2 Matters Arising

Street Lighting Street Light Number 1 and 3 are still not working. The Clerk would contact Eastern Contracting to remind them that these are in need of maintenance.

Road Signs At the last meeting concerns were raised that during the road surface improvements the warning hazard signs at Warborough Hill and 'walking' sign at Muckledyke and the Knoll were removed – following correspondence on behalf of the Council from Councillor Derek Baxter and the Clerk, Mr Ryan from the Highways Department had sent his apologies and gave his assurance that the above signs will be replaced as soon as possible.

Land at Camping Hill The Clerk had received the following copy correspondence from Councillor Bernard Crowe to Geoff Kidd at the N N D C in response to the issues raised at the last meeting:

Stiffkey Parish Council have raised again the question of a decision on the NNDC plot at Stiffkey. You recall that we have been discussing over the last two years.

Stiffkey Parish Council accepts that Best Value denies the Stiffkey Parish Council the opportunity of leasing the land from NNDC at a peppercorn rent. Stiffkey Parish Council had intended to manage the plot as a conservation site.

Stiffkey Parish Council now suggest that it should be used to provide social housing using the exemptions policy. I believe that you asked Steve Oxenham to investigate whether it could be sold off for private dwelling last year but I am unaware of the outcome of that option.

Finally Stiffkey Parish Council suggest an open tender sell-off to provide a contribution to social housing either in Stiffkey or possibly Wells.

May I have your comments?

The following response has been received from Mr Geoff Kidd:

Coincidentally I discussed this site with housing yesterday, I have spoken today with Peter Whittall and will revert to you again once he has spoken further with the planners.

Village Hall Security

Following a meeting of Stiffkey Village Hall Committee it has been agreed that a new lock will be provided prior to the Public Inquiry for the front door and the keys will not be issued until the Inquiry has taken place.

Stiffkey Old Hall - Internal and External alterations and demolition of outbuildings

Due to the volume of plans involved with this application it was agreed the application would be passed round all the Councillors and a decision deferred until the next meeting. The planning department would be informed that the response from the Parish Council would be made immediately after the 4th March.

Condition of Trees - Following concerns raised regarding the condition of some trees in the Street it was agreed that a site meeting would be arranged with Mr Sizer, the Tree Preservation Officer, the Clerk and Mark Harrison.

Dangerous Road Condition following Severe Frost The Parish Council unanimously agreed to purchase a grit bin to be located at the steep corner leading to Choosley

Making the adjustment between the need for additional resources and the taxpayers' willingness to pay is a decision for councils but consultation with the public would be a great help in reaching those decisions.

The officers and members who put together these award-winning proposals are to be congratulated; among other benefits they take some of the strain off council taxpayers.

Report from Councillor Derek Baxter

In the coming financial year (2003/4) the NCC settlement from the Government will be increased by 6.3%. This will bring in an additional £26 million but, unfortunately is well short of the £48 million extra required due to Government decisions and policies that the Council has to comply with (e.g. £22m for nationally imposed pay awards and inflation). On top of this, the Government have also brought in "Resource Equalisation" which has led to monies being removed from southern authorities and diverted to those in the northern midlands and the north. Because of this factor alone NCC has lost £16 million. Bearing in mind that every 1% of Council Tax equals £2 million, this means that Resource Equalisation alone equates to a Council Tax rise of 8%!!

Very little of the NCC overall budget is discretionary; with over 70% of spending dictated by the demands of Government. For example, the education budget, which represents over 60% of NCC spending is 'ring fenced' and if it is not spent on education, it would be cut the following year.

It is a myth that the NCC is full of people wandering around doing nothing. The authority needs people to deliver services and in some cases departments like Social Services are experiencing trouble recruiting staff. NCC as an authority employs 6.5 staff per 10,000 population which is well below the average of other counties.

So the reality, unpalatable as it is, that there are really only two options. Firstly to increase Council Tax by possibly 15% or more, to avoid any cuts in services. Or secondly to increase Council Tax by a lower figure and to look at changes in service delivery.

So, the decisions this year are not easy. The budget is still out to consultation with the public and more detailed information will follow in due course.

Speed camera signing on Norfolk 'A' Roads

Speed camera enforcement signing is to be erected on several A class roads in Norfolk, one or more of which pass through the Wells Division. These signs have been requested by the Norfolk Casualty Reduction Partnership to facilitate speed limit enforcement by either mobile or fixed sites. The scheme aims to reduce casualties and improve road safety for all road users by reducing vehicle speeds.

The A class roads to be signed are A11, A140, A148, A143, A47, A149 and A10. A large sign with the legend 'Police Enforcement Cameras' and the speed camera logo will be placed at each end of the route.

The signs are programmed for erection during late January and early February this year.

CoastHopper Bus Service

A review of the CoastHopper bus service (Sheringham to King's Lynn) serving settlements in the Wells Division is due to take place shortly with new contracts to be implemented for September 2003.

One new feature which has been applied for will be a work journey from Wells at 0740 arriving in Sheringham at 0818 on Mondays to Fridays which will also connect with trains to Cromer and Norwich. There will be a return journey from Sheringham to Wells on Mondays to Saturdays all year round.

Another new facility will be a journey from Wells departing 0715 to Hunstanton arriving at 0800 on Mondays to Fridays.

Rights of Way etc

In January 2003 the Countryside Agency began mapping open country and registered common land in the area. This is for the Countryside and Rights of Way Act 2000 which is made up of 5 parts:-

- 1) introduces new rights of access to open countryside
- 2) introduces new rights of way legislation
- 3) deals with nature conservation and wildlife protection
- 4) introduces new powers to manage AONBs
- 5) draws together miscellaneous and supplementary material.

Comprehensive Performance Assessment

Norfolk County Council has been named as a good performing authority in the first ever round of CPAs published in December.

Under the new system, the performance of 150 unitary and county councils has been assessed by the Audit Commission using a range of sources to assess the quality of each council's core services.

Councils in the first batch of assessments were placed in one of the following five categories; poor, weak, fair, good or excellent.

In Norfolk, the county council's overall performance has been rated as Good - placing it as one category from the top - two more points would have meant the performance was Excellent.

This represents a positive development for Norfolk because the Governments stated approach to local government is to reward councils that are performing well and to concentrate more of its management and inspection on those that it feels are not delivering what they should for local people. It has promised that councils judged either good or excellent will benefit from less audit and inspection and be offered additional freedoms and flexibilities.

SSSI designated site - Written reeport from Lord Buxton. The Parish Council supported the designation of this area and in response to some concern regarding the increase in the number of parked vehicles in the area the Chairman explained that a parking area is to be introduced to help keep the problem to a minimum.

Gritting Bin A new bin has been purchased at a cost of £95 and delivered to Mark Harrison. The Highways Department would be requested to provide the salt and sand and would liase with Mark for the delivery.

Tree Inspection A site meeting has just taken place with the Tree Preservation Officer, Mr Chris Yardley from the N N D C to inspect the trees in Bangay Lane and the trees which overhang the main street opposite the Post Office. Mr Yardley's assistance was much appreciated and the Clerk would record the meeting in a formal letter to Mr Yardley.

Land at Camping Hill - Councillor Bernard Crowe reported that the Planning Department at the NNDC are investigating the possibility of the area being used for housing. However, if planning permission is to be granted the provision of parking on the green would have to be included in the application as vehicle access would not be possible from the property.

Constitutional Matters

The Periodic Electoral Review North Norfolk District Council

The Electoral Commission has made the necessary change order and the Glaven Valley Ward will come into effect from 1 May 2003. The Ward will comprise Blakeney, Brinton with Sharrington, Field Dalling with Saxlingham, Letheringsett with Glandford, Morston, Stody with Hunworth, Thornage and Wiveton. The Ward has a population of 1899 and will be supported by one Councillor.

Langham and Stiffkey move into the Priory Ward with Binham, Hindringham, Holkham, Warham and Wells-next-the-Sea. The Ward has a population of 3553 and will be supported by two Councillors.

District Councillors will support their existing Wards until May 2003 so please keep in touch with matters of your concern.

Periodic Review of Norfolk County Council

The review is to commence on 11 March 2003 and the resultant new electoral arrangements will be effective from 5 May 2005.

Blakeney Parish Council

Blakeney Parish Council has opted to reduce its membership level from 11 to 9. The new levels will apply to the Council to be elected on 1 May 2003.

Affordable Housing

In view of the many concerns, we wrote to the Office Of the Deputy Prime Minister concerning affordable housing. I have extracted sections of the reply that will be of interest.

Quote: The Government is acutely aware of the problems that first time buyers and others have in acquiring property in many rural areas. We have published a consultation paper and invited the views of the public and local government on our proposals to give local authorities discretion to reduce the 50% council tax discount for second homes and long term empty homes. We will announce final decisions shortly. However, our proposals would require primary legislation and if all goes ahead the impact will be on council tax bills for 2004/05 onwards. End quote.

[I leave readers to draw their own conclusions].

Quote: The Secretary of State has designated North Norfolk District Council as a 'rural area' for Right to Buy purposes. You are able to impose restrictions on the resale of properties sold under the Right to Buy to ensure:

that the property can only be sold to someone who has lived or worked locally in the area for three, or that the property must be offered back to the council if it is resold within 10 years.

End quote.

I would appreciate your views so that I can represent them to NNDC. (Preferably by letter or e-mail please).

Number of Right to Buy Sales

It may be of interest to see the number of Right to Buy Sales over the past 5 years:

Year	Total Number of Sales	Increase Over Previous
1998	73	---
1999	88	20%
2000	92	5%
2001	122	31%
2002	137	12%

Discount

The current rate of discount for RTB housing is 60% or £38000. John Prescott, DPM, has ruled that thirty of the thirty-three London Boroughs and twelve of the Authorities in the South East will be able to reduce the discount by £22000. It will put it in line with the £16000 'right to acquire' discount for housing association tenants. This change does not affect North Norfolk at present.

Exemptions Policy

Within North Norfolk a Working Party of the Local Plan Review is considering the application of the Exemptions Policy which allows affordable housing to be built outside the development zone. The Oddfellows Field complex in Blakeney is currently the only development of that kind in North Norfolk. Other towns and villages are interested in considering this concept.

Where affordable housing allows local people in lower paid employment to live nearer their places of work, I fully support this move. However, when I became a District Councillor in 1999, I found that the definition of 'local' was applied to applicants from anywhere in North Norfolk. I have, therefore, persuaded NNDC to agree a local letting policy to ensure that future lets will go to people who have a connection with Blakeney & District Ward.

Recycling

In the next edition, I will bring our readers up to date with the progress, or lack of it, on recycling and on the controversial issue of 'wheelie-bins'.

Report from Councillor Derek Baxter

Some Census Highlights

The NCC's Demographic Services specialise in population details and have been analysing the 2001 Census to see what it says about Norfolk and how it compares to other parts of the country.

The information is now on the Council's special web pages which you can visit by logging on to www.norfolk.gov.uk. Then select 'Learning', next select 'Demographic Services' from the drop down menu.

For those of you without Internet facilities, among the interesting facts which emerge are:- Less than half the households in Norfolk (48%) are now occupied by married or cohabiting households, a similar figure to nationally. Around 29% of households consist of one person.

A quarter of the people in Norfolk are single (never married), less than the national figure of 30% and there is a higher proportion of married or remarried people - 55% as against 51% nationally.

Answers to a new question on whether people were caring for a sick or disabled adult relative or neighbour found over 81,000, of whom nearly 17,000 provided care for more than 50 hours per week, a similar proportion to the national figure.

Around 19% of the people in Norfolk have a long-term illness and 9% described their general health as 'not good' - similar to the national percentages.

A higher proportion of people in Norfolk travel to work by car (66%) than in England and Wales (61.5%) and a considerably lower number use public transport (under 6% compared with 14.5%). The proportion of households with one or more car or van (79%) compares with 73% nationally.

Around 15% of Norfolk people have higher qualifications and nearly a third have no academic or professional qualifications. Around 17% of people are retired compared with under 14% nationally.

There are 343,000 households in Norfolk with an average 2.3 people in a household. Over 70% of households are owner-occupied.

In terms of ethnicity and religion, North Norfolk has the lowest percentage of ethnic groups other than 'white' in the Region. On the Census religion question, which was voluntary, Norwich has the highest proportion in the whole country of people indicating they had 'no religion'. North Norfolk also ranked first in the Region on the proportion of retired people in the population.

Budget

The January report went into some detail of why people in Norfolk are having to pay an additional 15.9% on their NCC Council Tax. If you think this is bad then don't move to Suffolk this year because the rise there is 18.5%!

The key budget proposals are:-

£4.4 millions extra each year to Social Services. This includes increased funding for residential homes and funding to avoid the further transfer of home care to the private sector.

An extra £1 million for education in Norfolk over and above the Government settlement; the vast majority of which will go straight to Norfolk schools.

No mothballing of museums and continuation of the West Runton Elephant project.

The removal of the closure option for three of the five libraries where closure had been an option.

£445,000 to support a 20% increase in opening hours for libraries right across the county.

Restoring balances (cash reserves) to a level recommended by the Director of Finance (and District Audit) as acceptable for the responsibilities that the authority has to bear.

Restoring the authority's depleted insurance fund by £3 millions so that it is more appropriate to the level of risk carried.

Spending Plan for Roads and Transport

The County Council has secured around £40 millions in a better than expected settlement from the Government. Now Councillors are looking at the detailed spending programme.

Tim Malynn, the Director of Planning and Transportation, recommends that the capital spending budget is divided between structural maintenance work on the county's roads (12.5m) and bridge repairs/improvements (£3.9m) – leaving some £12.9m for other investment, for example on footways, pedestrian and cycling facilities, safety schemes and infrastructure such as park and ride.

Another £8.1m is earmarked for major schemes to improve passenger transport in Norwich (including a new bus station) and build the Nar Ouse Regeneration Route in King's Lynn. £2.2m is available to help the County Council maintain former trunk roads handed back to it by the Government in recent years.

6 A O B

Bottlebank Following receipt of the letters from Susan Elliott and John Adnitt, considerable discussion took place regarding the present location of the bottlebank. It was felt that this created no more of a noise disturbance than the external central heating connection adjacent to the bottlebank.

The views of the Parish Councillors were as follows:

The views of some of the Councillors was that the bottlebank should remain in its present location and it was also suggested that an alternative site either at the Red Lion P.H; in the corner on the Knoll or at the Village Hall, if the Village Hall Committee were in agreement could be investigated.

The Parish Council agreed not to make a formal proposition regarding the bottle bank at the moment until an investigation into an alternative site has been carried out.

Concerns were expressed that the Parish Councillors are the representatives of the parishioners of Stiffkey and therefore they make decisions on behalf of the parishioners. This appears to work well until someone objects to a decision they have made as a collective body, and that decision is challenged because a resident(s) are not in agreement. It was felt that if residents did not wish to accept decisions made on their behalf by the Councillors, or try to overturn them, then there was not much point in being a Parish Councillor. It was also suggested that parishioners who are objecting to the decisions made by the Parish Council should perhaps consider becoming Councillors themselves.

To Let Signs The Parish Council was pleased to note that the 'To Let' signs have at last been taken down

Fly Tipping The Parish Council was disappointed to note that fly tipping has continued in Bangay Lane despite the Councillors efforts to keep the area in a clean and tidy state. The Council agreed that the Clerk would produce a notice to be given out to residents at Camping Hill to remind them that some of the Parish Councillors had spent a considerable amount of time clearing the vegetation in Bangay Lane and that it is an offence to fly tip and to please stop dumping garden rubbish in this area.

Litter Pick The Chairman reminded everyone that there would be a 'Litter Pick' in the village on Saturday 12th April 2003 starting at 10.30am.

The formal part of the meeting closed to enable the following reports.

Report from Councillor Bernard Crowe

The Periodic Electoral Review [PER]

This report summarises some of the activities of the North Norfolk District Council over the last four years. By the time you read this article the local elections will be under way. Blakeney will become part of the Glaven Valley Ward, and the former Blakeney Ward will not exist after 1 May 2003. The Glaven Valley Ward will consist of Blakeney, Morston and Wiveton plus Letheringsett with Glandford, Field Dalling with Saxlingham, Thornage, Stody with Hunworth, and Brinton with Sharrington. That is 1899 electors living in 1167 houses. In addition, there are 361 second homes: Blakeney 210, Morston 25, Wiveton 19, Letheringsett/Glandford 20, Field Dalling/Saxlingham 26, Thornage 30, Stody/Hunworth 12, and Brinton/Sharrington 19.

The Council

The current Council was elected in 1999. There are 46 Councillors. The numbers will rise to 48 in May 2003 as required by the PER. We are a 'hung Council' today with the following break down:

Conservative & Allied Independents	16
Liberal Democrats	13
Labour	7
Independent Labour	3
Independent	7

The 'ruling alliance' consists of the Liberal Democrat, Labour and Independent Labour Groups with one 'non grouped' member.

Clearly some of us hope this will change!

Aims

The Council's aims have been modified to reflect that developing the economy must be given top priority so that our other aims can gain the necessary funding to support them. These remain Protecting the Environment, Improving the Quality of Life, and Involving Local People.

Local Strategic Partnerships [LSP]

The Council is working with partners to form the North Norfolk Local Strategic Partnership and has set up the following Improvement Teams:

- Environment & Outdoor Recreation
- Health & Social Care
- Economy
- Housing
- Transport
- Leisure & Culture
- Learning & Skills
- Safety

These will strengthen the capacity of the LSP to plan and facilitate a mixed economy/partnership approach.

Corporate Review

Throughout 2002, we have carried out a Corporate Review in order to produce a leaner and more efficient Council. This has enabled us to make savings on the way we deliver services whilst restricting the increase in NNDC council tax to 6.5%. That figure includes current inflation of 2% and stealth taxation set by central government over which we have no control. The key items are the staff salaries that are set nationally, and the increased level of National Insurance contributions.

In FY 2004/05, we will be faced with similar problems. The estimated cost of meeting government legislation on waste/recycling alone is £927,000, which will have to be met, under current arrangements, by cutting services or by raising council tax. The Corporate Review has identified a programme of work which will make an impact in reducing local taxation in future years. This means taking a radical approach to way we deliver services and this will require strong leadership to implement.

Comprehensive Performance Assessment [CPA]

The CPA grades Councils into Excellent, Good, Fair, Weak or Poor. The CPA for NNDC has commenced and will be completed in June/July 2003 during the tenure of the next Council. The outcomes are important because the government has adopted a 'stick and carrot' approach with greater freedoms and latitude to those who achieve an Excellent grading.

E-Government

Project Reach Out is now in service. I am pleased to say, in my capacity as chairman of the Project Board, that it was delivered on time, to specification, and within the £450,000 awarded by government and the East of England Development Authority for this innovative project. NNDC provided £50,000 in match funding so we were able to spend mainly 'other peoples' money for this North Norfolk project. The officers and members who have assisted me in putting together further award winning proposals for e-government projects amounting to £544,000 over the next two years are to be congratulated. Among other benefits they take some of the strain off our council taxpayers. The current Project Board will also run these projects.

Consultation

I have been keeping you up to date with areas of interest through the 'District Councillor's Notebook in the excellent Glaven Valley Newsletter and equally good Local Lynx. I hope to do so in the future. I send my thanks to Steve Wiles, the Editor of the GVN, and Bob and Helen Brandt of Local Lynx for their dedication and hard work.

Parish Councils

Our Parish Councillors do a marvelous and voluntary job. We are very grateful for all their work and for the support of hard working Parish Clerks. I hope that you will attend meetings from time to time and see their work. You are also welcome to attend all public meetings of the District Council and of the Area Committees.

We are fortunate to be living in the lovely and vibrant villages of North Norfolk, not only because of its attractiveness but because our residents put so much back into village life. For my part, I send a vote of thanks to you all. It is a privilege to represent you at North Norfolk District Council.

Report from Councillor Derek Baxter

Green Fuel Trials for County Vehicles

A year long trial of alternative vehicle fuels is to be carried out by Norfolk County Council.

NCC is to test the performance of Liquid Petroleum Gas (LPG), Compressed Natural Gas (CNG), Bio-diesel and hybrid electric cars against conventional petrol and diesel powered vehicles.

The trials, due to start at the beginning of July, aim to establish:

Fuel costs per mile

Total operating costs, including maintenance and breakdowns Emissions of CO2 and other pollutants

Running the trial for a full year will allow each fuel to be tested across a range of temperatures and types of weather. To ensure a fair comparison, traditionally fuelled vehicles will go through the same rigorous tests.

The Council plans to convert or buy at least five vehicles to run on LPG and to use at least ten vehicles to test Bio-diesel. It also plans to buy at least two hybrid electric cars, and will work with other agencies to find ways of testing CNG powered vehicles.

Multi-Million Investment Programme for Norfolk

NCC's Cabinet have agreed an initial £77 million programme for the year ahead to invest in Norfolk's schools, roads, social services, fire service, libraries and other council services.

The final figure will be higher as further announcements on funding are made by the Government.

On the approved programme, more than £47 million will pay for a number of items already underway or committed, such as the Lakenheath Housing with Care scheme in Norwich, the Sprowston Housing with Care scheme and the new Archive Centre.

In the year ahead, Planning and Transportation will spend more than £40 million on maintaining Norfolk's roads and footpaths and improving and maintaining bus services.

About £12.5 million will be spent on structural maintenance work on the County's roads and £3.9 million on bridge repairs/improvements – leaving some £12.9 million for investment in footways, pedestrian and cycling facilities, safety schemes and transport infrastructure such as Harford park and ride.

In education, approximately £19.5 million is available to allocate to new schemes in the year ahead. This includes £10.9 million to provide new school places in areas of growth, £7 million for improving the suitability of existing school buildings and £750,000 for improving disabled access in mainstream schools.

A further £11 million will be available directly to schools to help them tackle their most urgent building priorities.

This boost needs to be seen in the context of substantial need at schools across Norfolk (at least £350 million).

This clearly demonstrates the need to prioritise the limited funding available - and emphasises the fact that only the most urgent problems can be tackled through conventional central funding sources. NCC is exploring other sources of funding - including PFI - in order to increase future levels of education capital expenditure.

There are a number of new starts:

A new fire station is planned for Downham Market to replace the existing station in the town centre which is a one-way system

£390,000 is allocated towards the cost of providing a new sports centre in Fakenham, which is the subject of a bid for Lottery cash

£1.3 million to provide new libraries for Wymondham and Dereham

£175,000 to improve and enlarge the Wells household waste recycling centre. The work will include better access to the site and possible improvements in the range of recycling services available.

NCC Standards Committee

A body set up by NCC to ensure high standards of conduct are being maintained by elected members of the Authority is on the lookout for an independent Chairman.

He or she will Chair the Authority's Standards Committee whose principal responsibilities are:

To promote and maintain high standards of conduct by members and co-opted members of the Council

To assist members and co-opted members of the Council to observe the Council's Code of Conduct

NCC welcome applications from a wide variety of backgrounds.

Successful applicants are likely to possess the following qualities:

An interest in local government issues and knowledge of structures

An appreciation and understanding of the role of County Councillors

An understanding of the importance of high standards of conduct by Councillors.

Closing date for application is 17th April.

News in Brief

Shoppers in Norfolk will be protected by a number of new rights coming into force from the 31st March.

An EU directive states that consumers will be able to choose a second course of action (other than to ask for a refund). They will be able to ask for a repair or a replacement.

Blakeney Quay reconstruction is in its final stages with works due for completion by Easter as planned.

The £650,000 scheme has involved the construction of a new anchored steel sheet-piled quay wall with a reinforced concrete wall which had reached the end of its useful life.

The new wall, which includes two sets of steps for access to moored boats, is to be clad with timber planking, and will include new mooring bollards along its length. The whole quayside area and carriageway are being reconstructed and a new fence to separate traffic from pedestrians is being installed.

A crackdown on cars being sold illegally on roads and verges in Norwich is already having a significant impact on the problem.

NCC has been posting notices on some of the cars which are for sale, threatening to impound them and take legal action against the owners and sellers.

There could be a second network of "Quiet Lanes" in Norfolk if people in an area south of the county say they are in favour. NCC has begun consulting parish councils and residents in the area between Attleborough, Diss and Thetford.

The County pioneered the concept of "Quiet Lanes" with a successful national pilot scheme in North Norfolk, between Cromer and North Walsham.

Quiet Lanes schemes aim to make minor rural links better for all road users, including walkers, cyclists and horse riders. They encourage motorists to use the most suitable routes and ask all users to be considerate towards each other. They also provide links to the public footpath and bridleway networks.

Beacon Status for Norfolk County Council

At the beginning of April, Norfolk County Council heard that it is one of only six local authorities in the U.K. to be awarded Beacon status by the Government for showing leadership in promoting better construction practices.

NCC was shortlisted from 27 applicants to become a Beacon authority for "Rethinking Construction". This is a national initiative which aims to drive up quality in the construction industry by improving leadership, project management, partnership working and customer focus.

As a Beacon Council, NCC will now work closely with the National Improvement and Development Agency (I&DeA) on a year-long programme to disseminate what it has learnt to other councils and to the private sector, including a major national conference planned for next summer.

Annual Road Surfacing Work Under Way

NCC's annual programme of road surfacing got under way in mid-April. Around £5 millions will be spent on the program this year, to help maintain the county's roads. Work will be avoided on busy roads during peak periods whenever possible. Surfacing involves a thin layer of bitumen and stone chippings, which provides a cost-effective treatment for the roads and improves skid resistance. It also helps to prevent water from getting into the road structure below and causing problems.

On some roads the work will mean a temporary 20mph speed limit during the work and for a few days afterwards, for safety reasons. The treated surface also needs to be given some time to settle down before vehicles travel over it at faster speeds.

The surfacing programme takes place every summer for around four months, when the better weather and warmer temperatures help the process. Work will start first on some of the county's main A class roads and these should be completed during June, weather permitting.

This work is in addition to the Council's routine programme of road resurfacing, which uses a variety of materials, such as hot-rolled asphalt, to strengthen the structure of the road and improve running surfaces.

Monitoring of Bus Complaints

NCC has set up a new hotline for people who want to complain about the performance and reliability of the bus services they use.

The Council does not operate any public transport services. Where the service is a commercial service, it will not be able to investigate the complaint itself, however, it will pass them immediately to the appropriate bus operator and ask them to contact the passenger to try and sort the problem out.

The new hotline number is 0845 600 28 24 and it will be open between 0900 and 1630. There is also an e-mail hotline on ptu.pt@norfolk.gov.uk.

Some Local News

Work will begin next Monday (May 12th) to replace damaged/old kerbs and resurface footway with hot rolled asphalt at Mill Court, Wells. The work will take five weeks and cost £19,600.
